OUTLINES.

In view of the fact that President Roosevelt is receiving numerous protests against the omission of the motto, "In God We Trust," from the new St. Gaudens Gold coins, the President yesterday gave out a letter stating that he found no warrant in law for it, that he considered it irreverence and that he did not approve of it——The trial of Mrs. Annie M. Bradley, for the murder of former United States Senator Brown, of Utah, began in Washington yesterday——The trial of John R. Walsh, the Chicago banker who looted his three banks of $14,000,000, was formally put on trial yesterday at Chicago——In the Federal Court at New York, in answer to the government's petition to compel E. H. Harriman to answer questions put to him by the Inter-State Commerce Commission, Senator Spooner argued that the Commission had no power to go into the inquiry which it was endeavoring to make——The fourteenth annual convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy convened at the Jamestown Exposition yesterday for a four day's sitting——At the diocesan convention in Detroit, Michigan, yesterday, Bishop Williams, scored the people of his diocese for small contributions——At a mass meeting of the business men of the State at Montgomery, Ala., on Tuesday night the Legislature was urged to desist from further wild-cat legislation that may further disturb the present business outlook——The convention of the American Federation of Labor, at the Jamestown Exposition yesterday, took steps to fight the National Association of Manufacturers; Congress was urged to exclude Japanese laborers, and to prevent reciprocity between the American and Canadian lumber trust, and colling upon Congress to apporpriabe $1 for peace to every $1,000 for military purposes——In the third day's trial of former Secretary of State Caleb Powers yesterday at Georgetown, Ky., for complicity in the assassination of Governor Goebel, it appeared that one of the witnesses wanted for the defense is former Governor Taylor, Republican, who is a fugitive in Indiana and refuses to return to the jurisdiction of Kentucky for fear of indictment as a party to the assassination of Goebel ——The Hercules Nitro-Glycerine factory near Bradner, O., blew up yesterday, killing two men, fatally injuring a third, and leaving only a big whole where the factory stood——As a result of politics in Pennsylvania, Ex-State Treasurer Frank G. Harris (Democrat) is sued at Pittsburg for $20,890,000 of State money and charged with accepting two bribes of $10,000 each——New York markets: Money on call firm 5 to 12 per cent., ruling rate 10, closing bid, offered at 6; spot cotton steady 10.80; flour steady with a moderate demand; wheat firm, No. 2 red 1.04 elevator, No. 2 hard Winter nominal; corn steady, No. 2, 67 elevator, No. 2 white 68; oats steady, mixed 52, natural white 52 to 54 1-2; turpentine quiet 48; rosin easy, strained common to good 3.90.

WATERWORKS DEAL

Superintendent Robertson Wants His Status Defined With Respect to Plant.

DEVELOPMENTS EXPECTED

Interesting Rumors Afloat Yesterday. Compromise Suggested and Laying of New System is Being Considered—Porposition.

Interesting developments are expected today in the water works situation. The absence of any reply to the amended offer made to the company by the Board of Aldermen and the seeming impossibility to reach an agreement together with the uncertain status of the ownership of the property, has led Superintendent Robertson to call upon both parties to the controversy for a definition of his duties in the premises; otherwise one of the attorneys at interest said yesterday afternoon that application would be made to the courts after a reasonable length of time to have Capt. Robertson placed in charge under some kind of trusteeship, pending the settlement in the courts of the controversy between the city and the company.

It follows that with the liability of the company and the city uncertain that Capt. Robertson is encountering all kinds of trouble in the purchase of supplies and material and he has no other alternative than to have his status defined in some way. What will be accomplished today toward a solution of the entanglements into which the city and company have found themselves is not known, but it is certain that both sides were very active with their legal advisers last night and something definite is expected to follow these frequent conferences. It is known that the company is advised to stand pat upon its position that the plant is now the property of the city and a law suit to determine who is now in actual possession of the property seems inevitable. Litigation of this kind would likely extend over a period of twelve or eighteen months, a condition of affairs that neither side perhaps would relish. There were rumors yesterday that after all there was a possibility that the city and county might get together on a compromise of something like $150,000 under the same terms and conditions as were previously agreed upon or upon the terms that the city will take over the plant on January 1st. This compromise may have been the subject of a number of the conferences last night, but neither side would give out anything for publication. The public is quite tired of all this dilly-dallying and would like to see the matter settled one way or another. The negotiations have now been pending the last time about six months.

It was stated yesterday by an Alderman that a corporation of financial backing and responsibility on yesterday made an offer to lay a new system of water works for the city and accept the bonds and other securities of the city in payment therefor under the same conditions as it was proposed to pay the water works people for their existing plant. This offer has created a sentiment among the Aldermen for putting in a new system altogether and the outlook for Wilmington's experiment with municipal ownership would be watched with even greater interest upon the establishment of a competing system.

POLICE COURT YESTERDAY.

Young White Boys Star Defendants—Several to Roads and Farm.

Young Harry Thompson and Harry Williams, white boys, were before the Mayor yesterday, the first named on a charge of firing a pistol in the city limits and the latter for engaging in an affray. The affair between the two young men occurred Sunday night near Seventh and Orange streets, where it is said the two were rivals for the attention of a young lady attending church there on that occasion. There was no evidence that the pistol was fired at young Williams and the case went with a suspension of judgment against the two young fellows, who were advised against such conduct in the future, especially on a Sunday night and when the streets are filled with people returning from services.

Mary Jones, for an assault; Julia Bradley and Amelia Bradley for disorderly conduct, all of them old offenders, were each given 30 days on the farm. Nelson Griffin, a negro picked up at Ninth and Grace Tuesday night, as drunk as a lord, had a pistol and a pair of metallic knuckles on his person. He was held for the higher court under bond of $25 which he could not give and will become a charge of the county until the January term.

THE MAYOR WILL SPEAK

Junior Order of United American Mechanics Will Honor Union School With Flag Raising Ceremonies Tomorrow Morning.

The joint committee from the two councils of Junior Order of United American Mechanics in this city, Mr. H. W. Howell chairman, has arranged for the exercises attending the flag raising at Union School under the auspices of the fraternity to take place tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. The flagstaff was put in position several days ago and it was expected to have the Governor to deliver the address but he was unexpectedly detained in Raleigh and could not come. The flag was presented to the school some time ago but until within the past few days the arrangement of the exercises for the raising of the colors had been deferred.

Mayor William E. Springer has been invited and has accepted an invitation to present the flag to the school in behalf of the Juniors and it will be accepted most probably by John D. Bellamy, Jr., Esq., a member of the committee, in behalf of the school. All members of Jeff Davis and George Washington Councils, all visiting Juniors and the public generally are invited to be present. The hour has been named as the children gather for their daily work and as there are more than a thousand of the young people at this institution the exercises promise to be inspiring. The Mayor will make a brief address on the significance of the occasion, the response in behalf of the school will follow and the children will doubtless have some form of exercises in honor of the visitors upon this occasion. It will be a glad day for the children when the National emblem is unfurled to the breezes from the top of the high staff which has been put up just in front of the building and at a commanding position from the street.

FIRE AT FAYETTEVILLE.

Wooden Ware Company's Plant Partially Destroyed Yesterday.

The Fayetteville Observer of yesterday afternoon has the following:

"Fire which broke out at the plant of the Fayetteville Wooden Ware Company, on Mumford street at 9:15 o'clock this morning, did considerable damage to the property, estimated at five or six thousand dollars, but which is covered by insurance.

"The dry house, saw mill and a quantity of timbers on the yard were entirely consumed, while the main factory building was considerably damaged, as was also the boiler house and engine.

"Despite the fact that the hydrant pressure was very low, the firemen did excellent work, and it is due to them that the entire plant was not consumed. The fire will necessitate the closing down of the factory for some time."

GOOD HORSE KILLED

Struck by Street Car Near Fith and Castle Streets Last Night.

Early last night, just after dark, a street car being driven by Motorman Peterson, ran into and instantly killed a horse attached to a delivery wagon of Messrs. Miller & Carpenter, the grocers who recently began business at Third and Castle streets. The wagon and horse had been left for a moment by the driver who had gone in a residence to deliver a package. The horse walked off in the direction of a water fountain at which he had been accustomed to drink and as he was crossing the car tracks, the trolley dashed into the turn-out, breaking the horse's neck and smashing up the vehicle to which he was attached. The horse was valued at something like $200 and the wagon was damaged to the extent of perhaps $25.

Married This Evening.

The marriage of Miss Louise Coleman Reid and Mr. William Jesse Chambers, of Charlotte, will be solemnized at six o'clock this evening in the First Presbyterian Church of this city. Last night the bridal party was entertained at the home of the bride's cousin, Mr. C. C. Covington, Fifth and Grace street. Mr. Chambers, the groom, his best man, Mr. R. A. Lee, and Messrs. Fred Chambers, Martin A. Lyon and D. B. Smith arrived from Charlotte yesterday to be present at the reception and marriage.

Appointed Ancillary Receiver.

Brooke G. Empie, Esq., counsel for the Manhattan Electrical Supply Company, the Waccamaw Lumber Company and the Hickson Lumber Company, has applied to Judge Purnell to have an ancillary receiver appointed for the Eccleston Lumber Company to take charge of the property here in connection with that North. Willis T. Down, of New York, is the receiver named by the court there and the same party is wanted to take charge of the property in and near this city.

Donations for Orphans.

A committee of ladies will be at the Luther Memorial Building, Sixth and Princess streets, between the hours of three and five this afternoon for the purpose of receiving any Thanksgiving donations that may be offered for the Lutheran Orphans' Home at Salem, Va.

ON HABEAS CORPUS

Young P. H. Evans Released By Order of Judge Neal at Wilson Yesterday.

ACTION WOULD NOT HOLD

Costs Taxed Against Prosecutrix at Rocky Mount and Defendant and His Attorney Come Home. The Judge's Order.

P. H. Evans, the young Wilmington man who was taken to Wilson, N. C., by Deputy Sheriff A. T. Piver for a hearing before Judge Walter H. Neal, holding Superior Court there, on a petition for habeas corpus, instituted by his counsel, George L. Peschau, Esq., to secure his release from custody upon a warrant served upon him Monday from Rocky Mount, N. C., was given his liberty upon the hear- The order of Judge Neal as returned last night with his attorney. The case attracted not a little interest in the city where young Evans is well known and the result of the proceedings will be a source of gratification to his friends.

As stated yesterday Mr. Peschau raised the point that his client was arrested for an alleged violation of a law which was not enacted at the time the alleged violation was committed, therefore it was an ex post facto proceeding; furthermore, that the action was brought criminally when the statute prescribed that such actions were to be brought civilly. The order of JJudge Neal as returned to Sheriff Cowan last night is as follows:

North Carolina, Edgecombe County.
State vs. P. H. Evans. In the Superior Court.

In the above entitled cause, the prisoner having been brought to the bar of the court by S. P. Cowan, High Sheriff of the County of New Hanover and it appearing to the court that the warrant upon which the defendant was arrested is void for that no offence is charged, the court holds that the prisoner is wrongfully restrained of his liberty and he is discharged from the custody of the law.

It is further ordered and adjudged that the costs of this proceeding, including the sheriff's expenses for bringing the prisoner to Wilson county, be paid by Mrs. Lena Jenkins, the prosecutrix, and the county of Edgecombe. The execution will first issue against Mrs. Jenkins and if the same cannot be collected from her, then the county of Edgecombe shall pay the same.

WALTER H. NEAL.
Judge Holding Court Fourth Judicial District.

The negotiations for the hearing of the writ of habeas corpus having been carried on by wire, an interesting complication arose over the matter between Sheriff Cowan and Attorney Peschau Tuesday night, the latter having insisted that the prisoner be not carried to Wilson in order to save that expense. Mr. Peschau received a telegram from Judge Neal stating that he would accept a waiver of the presence of the defendant at the hearing but Mr. Peschau refused to furnish Sheriff Cowan with the original copy of the telegram and the sheriff refused to acept anything else. In the meantime he also had an order from Judge Neal to produce the prisoner in court and produce him he did, regardless of telegrams to the attorney. Just before the departure of the train the sheriff received a special delivery letter from the magistrate at Rocky Mount, who had issued the warrant, stating that the prisoner could be released, but Deputy Piver was already on the way to Wilson with the prisoner anyway and so the habeas corpus proceedings proceeded. As stated in the order of Judge Neal the sheriff's costs with all other costs in the matter were taxed against the county of Edgecombe. The sheriff could not do otherwise than to send the prisoner to Wilson when the direct orders were from the judge to do so, regardles of the private advices to the attorney.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker Here.

Mr. and Mrs. William Walker, who are most pleasantly remembered in Wilmington,arrived Tuesday afternoon from Newbern where they have been visiting and are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. S. Grainger, of this city. Mr. Walker for several years has been stationed at Hong Kong, China, where he is assistant manager for the Standard Oil Company, the manager being Mr. John Bolles, another Wilmingtonian. Mr. and Mrs. Walker are being cordially received by hosts of friends in Wilmington.

Freezing Weather Today.

Warnings of freezing weather for today were sent out by the Weather Bureau here yesterday and from the falling mercury last night up to an early hour this morning, it is probable that the prediction will come true. The minimum temperature for yesterday was 38 degrees. At 8 o'clock last night the reading was 42 degrees, but the cold wave very soon after the official register was made began to assert itself and this morning the record is perhaps 32 or under.

STATE K. OF P. ORPHANAGE

Meeting Tomorrow in Salisbury to Consider Important Question to The Order in North Carolina. Money is in Hand.

Capt. T. D. Meares leaves today for Salisbury, N. C., where on tomorrow at 2 o'clock he will attend a meeting of the special committee from the Grand Lodge, Knights of Pythias, appointed at the last annual meeting to consider the advisability of establishing in this State a K. of P. orphanage. The question has been before the Grand Lodge for several years and at the last session in Elizabeth City a special committee was appointed to examine into the subject fully and make report to the next sessions of the Grand Lodge, which will be held next Summer in Raleigh.

The committee to pass upon the question, all of whom are expected at the Salisbury meeting, is composed of George L. Hackney, of Asheville, chairman; T. D. Meares, of Wilmington; J. D. Pridgen, of Durham; A. E. McCausland, of Charlotte, and M. W. Bell, of Murphy. Under the resolution covering the subject at the last Grand Lodge sessions the duty of this special committee is to ascertain the needs of the immediate establishment of an orphanage in North Carolina; to report on available sites; to submit estimates as to the cost of establishment and maintaining the proposed orphanage and any other information that will enable the Grand Lodge to take intelligent action on the important matter. It is further provided that the report of this special committee be put in printed form and a copy of same be mailed to each representative thirty days before the meeting to pass upon the question finally.

Of course, the recommendations of the committee cannot be anticipated but it is stated that there is likely to be a division at the outset on the necessity of the proposed institution. There are now only two or three orphans in the State under Pythian care and these are being well taken care of at the expense of the order in other ways. While the Grand Lodge is understood to have something like $20,000 now on hand that could be devoted to the establishment of a Home, the committee would go slow in recommending the establishment of one unless the need of same is shown.

REVIVAL AT FIRST CHURCH.

Interest is on the Increase—Children to Tour City Again.

The interest in the revival meetings at the First Bautist church is reported to be on the increase with each service. There have been quite a large number of the unconverted who have professed their faith and some have been received into the First Baptist Church while others have manifested their purpose to connect themselves with other churches in the city.

Last night Evangelist Ham spoke on the subject of the "Devil's Beds" and dealt to a large extent with the various excuses given by sinners for not becoming Christians. The evangelist said that these people were resting on beds too short of covering for tomorrow. The devil has them doped and they sleep on thinking themselves safe and comfortable. The different kinds of beds used by the devil, the evangelist pointed out, are self righteousness, morality, church membership without being converted, infidelity, not being able to understand the Bible and various others. Mr. Ham said that some people think they have to do something before they can be saved, but that it was by the deeds of Christ Jesus than men are saved and not by the deeds of man. Christ does all that has to be done and the sinner has only to believe and put his trust in Christ.

A large number of persons came forward last night inquiring the way of salvation and some of them united with the church.

Evangelist Ham is especially interested in the drinking men of the city and has announced a great mass meeting of men on Friday night. The entire lower floor of the church auditorium will be reserved for men. The "Junior Choir" wil occupy the south end of the gallery and the other portions of the gallery will be reserved for ladies. The big chorus choir will occupy the platform as usual. It is hoped that the men of the city, saved and unsaved, will come out in great numbers Friday night to hear the message that Mr. Ham will deliver to them.

All the lodges, or as many of them as will come, are invited to come to the meeting tonight and Friday night.

This afternoon the "Junior Choir" of 150 children will take their second tour of the street car lines of the city. The big suburban car will leave Fifth and Princess streets promptly at 3:30 P. M., and will go over the entire lines of the city, the children singing their gospel and temperance songs.

Too often the world applauds the big grafter and frowns on the little grafter.

STILL NO DECISION

Sspreme Court Remains Silent Upon Southern Railway Appeal From Fine.

EIGHT OTHERS DELIVERED

Maxton Commercial Club Chartered. State Senator Guy Carter Recongered—Gov. to Scotland Neck. Educational Affairs.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 13.—Opinions in only eight cases on appeal were delivered by the Supreme Court this evening. Again, the anxiously awaited case of State vs. Southern Railway involving the $30,000 fine against the Southern for violation of the 2 1-4 cents passenger rate, was not in the list.

Opinions were delivered as follows: Morrow vs. Railroad; Alamance, no error; Burringer vs. Railroad, Guilford, no error; Kames vs. Armstrong, Rowan, no error; Baldwin Will case, Montgomery, no error; Lantz vs. Hinsen, Stanley, no error; McCollum vs. Chislem, Montgomery, no error; Ayden vs. Deub, Forsyth, no error; Logan vs. Hotges, Yadkin, new trial.

(Special Star Correspondence)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 13.—State Senator Guy Carter, of Surry county, who has been in Rex hospital here for the past month recovering from a most serious surgical operation, has so far recovered as to be able to be out.

A charter was isued today for the Maxton Commercial Club, (Incorporated). There is no capital stock, the principal object being the promotion of business interests of Maxton and its section and for mutual benefit and enjoyment of members of the club. F. L. Black, A. J. McKinnon, W. H. Harding, Geo. Ziegler and Dr. L. R. Kirkpatrick are among the incorporators.

Hon. J. Y. Joyner has gone to Tarboro where he will attend the annual session of the Northwestern district association of county superintendents of public schools which will be in session Thursday and Friday. Superintendent W. H. Ragsdale, of Pitt, is president of the association which meets under the direction of the State Superintendent for interchange of ideas and the improvement of methods in the direction of the schools.

The Governor went to Scotland Neck yesterday to take part in the stirring campaign that is on there for the prohibition election pending. The contest is said to be very close both sides claiming that they will win out by a small majority. He will go to Baltimore before returning to Raleigh Friday or Saturday.

Eight immigrants attracted here by Edward Neilson, appointed an immigration agent for the state by Mr. T. K. Bruner of the state department of agriculture, have arrived and are to be located to the best possible advantage through the agricultural department. One of the immigrants is a baker, two others, cabinet makers, two servant girls and two farmers.

The Vance county man, Lue Hayes, charged with working at a blockade distillery and surrendered yesterday by his bondsman because he had been drinking heavily lately, has been committed to Wake jail to remain there until the convening of the United States Court December 10th when he is to have a trial.

MONEY FOR CASWELL.

Secretary Taft Recommends $109,000 For Garrison Here.

Secretary of War Taft will recommend to Congress at the opening of its session in December something over five million dollars for coast defences, for the fiscal year. This will be largely used in equipping the additional companies to be established under act of January 25th last. There are 78 separate forts where modern coast defences are maintained. Thirty-two of these were selected as main posts, having as nearly as practicable garrisons of 100 per cent. of a full manning detail, the remaining forts to be left to such caretaking detachments as are necessary for the proper care and preservation of the defences. The posts at which work is to be done include Fort Caswell at the mouth of the Cape Fear river, for which an appropriation of $109,000 is made. With the exception of H. G. Wright, N. Y., which receives $336,000 Fortress Monroe $211,000; San Jacinto, Texas, $359,,000; Taylor, Fla., $306,000; Terry, N. Y., $313,000, and a few others, Fort Caswell seems to have shared well in the distribution of this new expenditure for properly equipping Uncle Sam's army posts. This work is to be done in conection with the regular work and is under the special act of Congress making extensive plans for the coast artillery.

Mr. Ernest Bulluck Doing Nicely.

A telegram last night from Dr. D. W. Bulluck states that his son, Mr. Ernest Bulluck, who was operated on Tuesday night for appendicitis at the University of Maryland Hospital in Baltimore, is doing nicely and will recover speedily. This will be gratifying news to a great many friends in this city.

TWO CAROLINA PROJECTS.

Charlotte's large and handsome new auditorium, to seat 5,000 people, was formally dedicated on Tuesday night. United States Senator Lee S. Overman, of Salisbury, was the orator of the occasion and this distinguished North Carolinian, as usual, made a speech that had something in it. Among some of the things he said was the following:

"I deem it a great honor to be able to take part in these exercises tonight. I prize it a distinction to be permitted to be here at the formal opening of this splendid auditorium which will be a credit to your city and means so much to your people. I congratulate you, Mr. Preston, and you, Mr. Dowd, for the part you have played in making this building possible and for your untiring zeal in its completion. If you say 100,000 inhabitants for Charlotte in 1908, you will have them despite the panic. They say there is a panic and I want to add that Grover Cleveland didn't bring it about either. It's nothing but a great scare. Gold is flowing into this country. They say wages are high, but I say that the farm products are correspondingly high. There is an average per capita of wealth in the country of $32. What brought about this panic they are talking about? It was the turning on of the light, the discovery of great frauds in great companies, bankers using the money of their customers to speculate in stocks, great and infamous manipulation on the part of the financiers with the money of the people. If there is a panic, it means the purification of the atmosphere of high finance. And I tell you it is the South that will save the nation from a panic. Through the cultivation of cotton as a by-product, $600,000,000 is made by the South annually, and $400,000,000 is brought to this country from across the sea. The whole trouble is that the money you have placed in the banks has been held and hoarded in Wall Street."

Further on in his speech Senator Overman spoke of the future of North Carolina, and in that connection advocated the thirty foot channel for Wilmington, and the Appalachian forest reserve, the first of which is a North Carolina project, and the latter a National project, yet of tremendous importance to North Carolina, as the reserve would be principally in this State and preserve our forests and protect our mountain streams from the results of drouths and floods. This, among other things was said of the Senator's speech by the Charlotte Observer:

"In dealing with this phase of his theme, Senator Overman warmly advocated the efforts now being made to establish a gateway at Wilmington for the purposes of water transportation, and for the preservation of the forests as a means of protection to the water developments of the State. Charlotte, he said, was destined to become the manufacturing city of the South on account of its proximity to the water developments of North Carolina, two of the largest being on either side. There are 138 different varieties of hardwood in the mountains of North Carolina, which should be preserved, both for their own value and for the sake of preventing drouths and floods, which would come without them. The great rainfall of the mountain region of the State would be a constant menace to the power developments unless the forests are preserved."

It is a good thing to have as strong man as Senator Overman on our side. He said good things of Charlotte and showed that he is also a friend of Wilmington—we might say of the State, in standing for the movement to give North Carolina a port that will benefit the whole State.

TARIFF FAVORITES, ONLY, WANTED.

The Louisville Courier-Journal (Dem.) remarks:

"In this country duties have for years past been fixed to suit the producers, on the mere statement that they needed protection. The 'hearings' held before a tariff bill is enacted are little more than declarations of these seeking to be protected of the amount which they need, and they have uniformly demanded a great deal more than necessary, if anything was necessary, to equalize conditions of production. If we are to have protection at all it ought to be based on ascertained facts and not on the mere demands of the protected interests. The commonwealth of Australia seems to be bent on making this sort of an experiment, and it will be interesting to note how it may succeed with it."

The Courier-Journal probably forgets that protection is intended for those who get it. Also that it is a Republican Congress that gives it to them. When it gets ready to give it to them, the beneficiaries are invited to go before the Congresional committees and state how much they need. They always need all they can get and the committees generally agree with them that they get all that they can need. The committees which are stand-pat every time only summon before them the people who are for protection and expect it. They were never known to summon before them people who do not want protection, are against it and would knock against the proposition. For that reason tariff revisionists will have a hard time to get a hearing before a Senate committee whose only business is to find out what its friends need and must have. The committees do not want to hear from the fellow who does not want protection but they are there to give audience to plutocratic beggars who don't care how big the favor is, as it comes out of the people who are foolish enough to consume things and are compelled to consume high price things because the protective tariff shuts out such things as might come from abroad to compete with the products of the friends of the Republican party and the generous subscribers to the campaign fund.

Watch the patriotic shipping trust beg this Republican Congress for a subsidy for the sole purpose of affording their beloved country auxiliary steamers when they are needed in the event of war.

GOLD STILL NOT PLENTIFUL.

Within the past year or more the world has been astonished at the enormous production of gold from the mines of the world. Yet there does not seem to be any too much of the yellow metal. This is clearly shown by the scramble among the nations of the world to get hold of and keep gold in their strong boxes.

Notwithstanding the fact that over $400,000,000 of gold was taken from the earth last year, the sudden demand from the United States for less than $50,000,000 from Europe's supply of the yellow metal has been sufficient to force the discount rate of the Bank of England to the highest figure known since the panic of 1873, and the rate of the Bank of France to a figure not experienced since the Franco-Prussian war. This unwillingness to part with supplies of gold when the amount of it in the world is undoubtedly greater than ever before indicates clearly the expansion of the world's trade and financial operations.

It is believed in many quarters that the period of that expansion has been reached and that we must get back to a point where business is not so frenzied. Speaking along that line the New Orleans Picayune observes:

"As everybody knows full well a dollar of actual gold value will pay many dollars of debts, hence a certain general stock of gold offers the basis of credit for an enormous volume of commerce. At the same time there is a limit beyond which expansion is not permissible. As the world's supply of gold has increased enormously in recent years, there has been ample warrant for a considerable expansion in the world's commerce, but recent events, particularly the apparent scarcity of gold, indicate plainly that the expansion business has been overdone and that a period of rest and conservatism is necessary to restore a healthy equilibrium.

"As the whole world is now practically on a gold basis, it is but natural that each country should seek to re-enforce its supply of gold as security against its obligations. As always happens in periods of stringency, a good supply of the precious metal has probably gone into hiding, to reappear again gradually as confidence is restored. This reappearing gold, as well as the new supplies of the precious metal that will come out of the earth, will in time relieve the situation, but in the meantime there will have to be a temporary halt in speculation."

CURRENT COMMENT.

—Nowadays an Indian uprising doesn't get as much space in the newspapers as a strike of the servant girls union for shorter hours.—Washington Post.

—Whenever the foolkiller sees a woman putting poison and medicine bottles on the same shelf he feels that he can leave that particular case to take care of itself.—Washington Post.

—The North Carolina cotton mill men are being visited this week by Mr. Worcester and Mr. Worthington, special agents of the Department of Commerce and Labor, to obtain information with reference to the condition, treatment and general surroundings of the mill employes. Every access is given them to obtain the true situation. In view of the sensational stories sent out by yellow penny-a-liners it is important that the truth be made known.—Raleigh News and Observer.

—On the new double eagles, the words "In God We Trust" have been omitted by order of President Roosevelt. There is neither wisdom nor warrant for the change and it was a piece of presidential impertinence or irreverence to remove those words. It may be that, since the Republican tariff has made it possible for a few multi-millionaires to control the country, we do not trust in God but in Rockefeller and Carnegie. Still we should trust in God and should not advertise that we have quit doing so—Raleigh News and Observer.

—The locker liker feature of the Georgia prhibition law is already causing some complications and inquiries as to its real scope and intention. The controller general has sent out an official opinion that the $500 tax is in no sense to be construed as a license to sell liquors in these places, but is merely an 'occupation tax,' authorizing one or more persons to keep a supply of liquors on hand for the use of the members. We predict that this tax is going to add very materially to Georgia's annual income. Lockers will be considered among the necessaries of existence in Georgia."—Montgomery Advertiser.

DEEPER WATER FOR WILMINGTON

Improvement of the Port Has Friendly Recognition at Washington Because of Its Importance as An Export Point.

(Raleigh News and Observer.)

Washington, D. C., Nov. 11.—The annual report of General MacKenzie chief of engineers of the War Department, which was issued today, details at great length the work accomplished in the way of river and harbor improvements in North Carolina. The most important work undertaken by the Federal Government in North Carolina is the improvement of the harbor at Wilmington and the Cape Fear River from the city to the ocean, for which a total of $3,845,655 has been expended. No mention is made in the report of the project for a thirty-foot depth to North Carolina's leading seaport, for which the people of Wilmington are hustling, but there is every reason to believe that the present Congress will take favorable action with reference to this scheme. There has never been any serious opposition to the continued improvement of the Wilmington harbor, and on the contrary, leading men in Congress, like Chairman Burton, of the Rivers and Harbors Committee, have assumed a very friendly attitude to this particular project. The same thing can be said of very few of the other North Carolina river and harbor undertakings. The present appropriation calls for the completion of a twenty-foot depth in the Cape Fear from Wilmington to the ocean, and also authorizes improvement to such depth as the present appropriations for the work may permit. This uniform depth of twenty feet has been obtained, and on July 1st, 1907, there remained available of the unexpended appropriation a total of $345,781. In addition Congress last winter authorized a further expenditure of $250,000 yet to be appropriated. The expenditure of this available reserve fund will give a depth of several more feet to the Wilmington harbor and the Lower Cape Fear, so that when the thirty-foot project is presented to Congress the present depth of the harbor will have been materially increased.

The report of the local engineer states that as a result of the recent improvement, vessels coming to Wilmington are much larger than formerly, the average tonnage in 1886 being 421, while in 1905 the average was 1,103. The statement is also made that this increase in tonnage has caused a corresponding decrease in freight rates on shipments by water.

The commerce of the year 1906 amounted to 814,291 tons, valued at $42,684,315.75, which shows a loss in volume, as compared with 1905, of 56,815 tons, of the value of $6,538,991.25. This decrease is due principally to the falling off in the exporting of cotton and lumber, and in the receipts of coal.

The commerce consisted principally of cotton, cotton-seed meal, naval stores, manufactured lumber, shingles, fertilizers, fertilizer material, coal, gum logs, cross-ties, and general merchandise.

The increase from 220,000 tons in 1869 is due to the improvement of the river.

Survey to Fayetteville Completed.

The report states that a survey of all the sites for locks and dams on the Upper Cape Fear from Wilmington to Fayetteville has been completed. A number of borings have been made at each site, the locations approved, and prices obtained on all the lands necessary. Owing probably to defective records, the purchase of other land has been delayed, and in some cases it may be necessary to resort to condemnation proceedings. The existing project is to obtain, by canalizing, a low water depth of 8 feet to Fayetteville, at an estimated cost of $1,350,000. There has been expended on this project up to the present time $151,143. There was an unexpected balance available July 1, 1907, a total of $35,866.

At present the low-water depths are 8 feet to Kings Bluff, 38 miles above Wilmington; 2 1-2 feet to Elizabethtown, 73 miles above Wilmington, and 2 feet to Fayetteville, 115 miles above Wilmington. Low-water stages prevail from two to four months during each summer, and freshets, which raise the water level from 15 to 50 feet at Fayetteville, usually occur as often as once a month during the rest of the year.

The commerce for 1906 was estimated at 135,991 tons, estimated to be worth $3,630,775. This indicates a decrease of 3,800 tons and of $907,537 in value as compared with 1905. The principal decrease was in timber. The decrease in timber was probably due to the decreasing abundance of timber.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

—Mrs. Henry Bacon, of Boston, has arrived in the city and is a guest at the home of Mr. W. B. McKoy.

—Mr. Z. Taylor, of Newberlin, Columbus county, was in the city yesterday and was a pleasant caller at the Star office.

—Mr. Arthur Mitchell, of Atlanta, is in the city on a business trip and spending a short time with relatives here.

—Mr. Harold Child, of Norfolk, is in the city for a few days' business trip and is being pleasantly greeted by many friends in Wilmington.

—Announcement is made of the approaching marriage of Mr. William Hamilton and Miss Mabel Williams, daughter of Mrs. Mary C. Williams, all of this city.

—Friends were glad to see Mr. B. M. Lehue, proprietor of The Orton barber shop, at his post of duty yesterday after several days' illness. Messrs. Baxley and Skipper, two first-class "tonsorialists," looked after the business while Mr. Lehue was away.

—Fayetteville Observer of yesterday: "A telegram from Chapel Hill this morning conveyed the news that our young townsman, Mr. Robert McNeill, a student at the University, is extremely ill with pneumonia. Capt. J. D. McNeill, Miss Mary McNeill and Mr. Jas. S. McNeill left on the noon train today for Chapel Hill in consequence of the distressing news."

—Capt. Will L. Miller returned yesterday afternon from a three weeks' trip to Mobile, Ala., Pensacola, Fla., and other points South where he went in an advisory capacity for a large lumber syndicate North which is investing largely in timber lands in the South. Capt. Miller returned by his old home at Memphis, Tenn., where he spent several days quite pleasantly.

—Yesterday afternoon's Fayetteville Observer says: "Our former townsman, ex-Mayor Fishblate, of Wilmington, who is spending a day or two in the city, says he is struck with the progress Fayetteville is making, but is horrified at the condition of the streets. Mr. Fishblate represents the Duke's Mixture department of the American Tobacco Company, and his great popularity in this section stands him in good stead."

TRIAL OF MRS. ANNA BRADLEY.

Defense May Plead Insanity for Murder of Senator Brown.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Washington, D. C., Nov. 13.—The first day of the trial of Mrs. Annie M. Bradley on the charge of murdering former United States Senator Brown of Utah, was consumed entirely in an effort to obtain a jury. When at 4 o'clock the court adjourned for the day that preliminary work was still incomplete, notwithstanding 61 men had been examined as to their competency to sit in the case. The day was without especial incident, but the questions put by the attorneys for the prosecution and the defense served to define to some extent the lines which will be followed by both sides of the case. It was made evident that the attorneys for Mrs. Bradley will depend upon the plea of insanity as their only professed defence. If there was any confidence in the plea of justification it was not expressed.

On the other hand the prosecution manifested apprehension that the jury would be inclined to consider the case under the unwritten law and to shield the defendant from possible capital punishment on account of her sex, and the government spared no pains to procure assurance that there were no lurking convictions in the minds of jurors which would stand in the way of awarding punishment in accordance with the testimony on those accounts. Many jurors were excused because they were opposed to capital punishment for women.

Mrs. Bradley was accompanied to the court room by her mother, Mrs. Madison, who remained during the forenoon session. During the early hours of the day Mrs. Bradley appeared nervous and affected by all the references to the tragedy but later regained her composure. The court room was crowded, many of the spectators being women. District Attorney Baker was assisted in the examination of jurors by Assistants Turner and Given, and Mr. Hoover made al inquiries in Mrs. Bradley's behalf. His partner Mr. Wells, and Judge Powers sat and prompted him.

LOCAL DOTS.

—The W. C. T. U. will hold a devotional meeting at 4:30 P. M. Friday in the lecture room of the First Baptist Church.

—The British steamer Edernian, 2,284 tons, Captain Griffith, arrived in port yesterday to join the cotton fleet. She is from St. Lucia via Norfolk.

—There were sales of spirits after hours yesterday at 41 cents. The naval stores market has been much demoralized for some time.

—The steamer City of Fayetteville was in port yesterday from the upper Cape Fear, clearing in the afternoon. She brought among general cargo 38 bales of cotton and a quantity of naval stores.

—Mr. Meares Harriss, a clever and very popular young Wilmingtonian, has been elected secretary of the State Waterways Association by the executive committee of the organization. He will fill the place with credit to himself and to the Association.

—Captain William M. Smart, assistant surgeon, United States Army, has been ordered to proceed to Fort Clark Texas, and report to the commanding officer, First Cavalry, for duty to accompany that regiment to the Philippine Islands, sailing from San Francisco about December 5th.

—The remains of young Robin Taylor, who died in Ogden, Utah, will probably be interred there for the present at least. His brother, Mr. George Taylor, at Athens, Ga., was notified of the death yesterday and may arrange to have the remains brought here later.

—The steamer Compton has begun fishing for menhaden off this coast preparatory to starting up the Ocean Fisheries Plant at Old Brunswick. Some very good hauls were made Monday but Tuesday and yesterday the weather was so rough that very little was done. The Nellie B. Dey will join the Compton later in hauling for the "fat backs" which are said to be running well off the Cape Fear this season.

RAILROADS EXTORTIONATE

Serious Charges Filed With Inter-State Commerce Commission.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Washington, Nov. 13.—Allegations of serious importance were made in a complaint filed today with the Inter-State Commerce Commission. They involve charges of unfair discrimination, illegal concert of action as to rates, and suppression of competition against practically all of the important Northwestern Railroad Companies.

The complaint was filed by the Oregon and Washington Lumber Manufacturers' Association and several other North Pacific lumber organizations against the Union Pacific Railroad Company and other Western and Northwestern lines. It is asserted by the complaints that the defendants, by concurrence and concert of action, absolutely fix and maintain rates on all forest products from points of origin in the Pacific northwest to points of destination in the eastern States. It is alleged that the Great Northern Railway Company and the Northern Pacific Railway Company "dominate and control defendant, the Chicago, Burlington and Quincey Railroad Company, through the ownership of its capital stock; that the defendant Union Pacific Railroad Company dominates and controls the defendants, the Oregon Railroad and Navigation Company, the Oregon Short Line Company, and the Southern Pacific Company, by virtue of the ownership of the majority of the capital stock of said companies and by other devices and arrangements, so that there is no competition between these lines; that the Southern Pacific Company dominates and controls defendants, the Oregon and California Railroad Company and the Corvallis and Eastern Railroad Company through ownership of the majority of the capital stock or by lease or otherwise.

It is asserted that the defendants' action in concert have made an advance of 10 cents per 100 pounds effective November 1 on forest products; that the rates are excessive, extortionate, prohibitive and discriminatory; and the if exacted from the complainants, the lumber industry of the Pacific northwest will be seriously injured if not absolutely destroyed. The complaints aver that they have $60,000,000 capital invested in their industries, that they employ 40,000 people; that their annual payroll aggregates $20,000,000 and that they pay in freight $12,000,000 annually for 30,000 car loads of roest product.

The Commission is asked to adjust the rates on a fair and equitable basis and in full light of the fair value of the property of the transportation company.

An East Wilmington Fracas.

Upon removal from Justice Bornemann's court yesterday, Hillory Jones and John Jones, East Wilmington negroes, were given trial yesterday afternoon before Justice George Harriss in the grand jury room at the Court House, each being charged with an assault and committing a nuisance in the settlement a few night ago. A. J. Marshall, Esq., appeared for the prosecution, and Clayton Grant, Esq., for the defence. Judgment was suspended as to John Jones, but the other defendant was bound to the higher court under bonds of $25 in each case.

CAPT. L. D. CHERRY DEAD.

Passed Away Late Last Night at Hospital in This City.

Capt. Linwell D. Cherry, of Long Creek, Pender county, a well known civil engineer and surveyor in Eastern North Carolina, a man of the utmost geniality, esteemed and respected by every one who knew him, passed away last night at 11.33 o'clock in the James Walker Memorial hospital, where he had been for two weeks or more for treatment. Capt Cherry had reached the advanced age of 82 years but was a man of great vitality and had been active in his profession for forty-odd years and up to the time he became ill with heart trouble a short time ago. During the war between the States he cast his lot with the Southern Confederacy and was a splendid soldier. His passing away will be received with sorrow by hundreds of friends throughout this section of the State

An only son of the deceased and the only member of the immediate family surviving him, Mr. L. G. Cherry, of Winston-Salem, was with his father when he pased away. The remains will be taken on the A. & Y. train this morning to Montague, N. C., thence by private conveyance to Long Creek, where the remains will be laid to rest after funeral services from the family home there.

RAILROADS CRUSH RIVALS

Complaint Made Against Roads in Georgia.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 13.—Charging that the Atlantic Compress Company, owned by a number of railroads in Georgia and operating several presses, has reduced the price of compressing from ten and twelve cents a hundred pounds to six and half and seven cents to force the independent presses out of business, the independent compresses of the State have filed a petition with the Railroad Commission asking that the railroads be ordered to restore the old rates.

The petition alleges that the Atlantic Company continues to get the high rate, the sum above six cents being paid in the nature of "extras." The commission named December 11 for a public hearing.

NO BATTLE WITH INDIANS

Report Was Canard—Red Skins Under Arrest.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Ute Agency, Ship Rock, New Mexico, Nov. 13.—Superintendent Shelton, of the Ute Indian agency, today positively denied the report sent out from Durango, Colorado, that a fight took place yesterday between disaffected Utes and United States troops, now in the field to subdue the red skins. The report had it that six Indians were killed by the soldiers.

Superintendent Shelton further states that all of the desaffected Utes are now under arrest at Ship Rock and that no further trouble from them is expected. All the troops that were sent into the field to subjugate them have arrived at Ship Rock, having finished the work.

FOR RIVER AND HARBOR WORK.

Rivers and Harbors Congress Wants $50,000,000.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Lake Providence, La., Nov. 13.—An address urging harmony of all sections of the United States to the end of securing $50,000,000 annually from Congress for river and harbor improvement, was issued today by Congressman JJ. E. Russell, president of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress. Mr. Russell said:

"All projects now under contemplation and which have been approved by the engineers' department involve a cost of less than $500,000,000. It is questionable whether more than $50,000,000 a year can be expended wisely and that should be divided among a number of projects.

DOING THEIR DUTY

Scores of Wilmington Readers Are Learning the Duty of the Kidneys.

To filter the blood is the kidneys' duty.

When they fail to do this the kidneys are sick.

Backache and many kidney ills follow;

Urinary trouble, diabetes.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure them all.

Wilmington people endorse our claim.

P. C. Le Moyne, contractor, of 223 North Seventh street, Wilmington, N. C., says: "I did not know that the trouble with my back was caused by my kidneys not acting properly, although I noticed the secretions from those organs were dark and very irregular, sometimes free and at other times scanty. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and went to Bellamy's drug store and got a box. I was surprised at the result, for I have not had backache since I used them."

DISCRIMINATING LADIES.

Enjoy Using Herpicide on Account of Its Distinctiveness.

The ladies who have used Newbro's Herpicide speak of it in the highest terms, for its quick effect in cleansing the scalp of dandruff and also for its excellence as a general hair-dressing. It makes the scalp feel fresh and it allays that itching which dandruff will cause. Newbro's Herpicide effectively cures dandruff, as it destroys the germ that causes it. The same germ causes hair to fall out, and later baldness; in killing it, Herpicide stops falling hair and prevents baldness. It is also an ideal hair dressing, for it lends an aristocratic charm to the hair that is quite distinctive. Sold by leading druggists. TRYING TO SMUT DEMOCRAT.

Suit Against State Treasurer Harris for $20,290,000 in Pennsylvania.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 13.—The most surprising of the many sensations which have developed since the failure of the Enterprise National Bank, of Allegheny, in 1905, occurred today when Thomas Rinaker, receiver of the defunct institution, entered a suit in United States District Court against ex-State Treasurer of Pennsylvania, Frank G. Harris, claiming $20,890,000 with interest from October 23, 1903.

The petition alleges that Harris as State Treasurer selected the Enterprise National Bank as a State depository, making aggregate deposits of State money of $20,890,000. It is alleged the Pennsylvania Development Company was formed by T. Lee Clark, cashier of the Enterprise Bank, who killed himself on the morning the government closed the institution, William H. Andrews, the Territorial delegate to Congress from New Mexico; Arthur Kennedy, and Francis J. Torrance, two prominent Pittsburgers.

It is stated that Andrews, Clark, Kennedy and Torrance entered into an agreement whereby the Pennsylvania Development Company was enabled to borrow large sums from the Enterprise Bank. Harris, it is alleged, was given two checks of $10,000 each by Clark, October 21, 1903, drawn upon the Merchants' National Bank, of Philadelphia, where the Enterprise carried a large account, and it is dinstinctly charged that Harris used the money realized on these checks for his own personal benefit, knowing that the drafts were fraudulently given him and that he was accepting a bribe for his part in permitting the promoters of the Pennsylvania Development Company to use the funds of the Enterprise Bank and the State.

CRUEL TYRANY IN HAYTI

Five Men Shot to Death for Trivial Causes.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New York, Nov. 13.—Private advices received here from responsible foreign sources in Hayti give details of the execution of five political prisoners recently reported in a dispatch from Minister Furniss to the State Department. According to these advices, a few weeks ago five men were arrested and condemned to death on the charge of conspiring against the government. One of the men was condemned because he had made a military coat of another man, and another was condemned because he lived in a house between two others in each of which a rifle had been found.

On the morning of October 3 some one put a rifle cartridge on the tram lines and the first engine passing exploded. The President at once had five of the condemned men taken to burial grounds and shot?

The names of the five men were Helvius Traverio, Alex de Launay Moise, Nestor Dumay, Eduoardde and Emine Jean.

LOCOMOTIVE RAN 89.4 MILES.

Beat Electric Engine in Hour's Running Race.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Clayton, N. J., Nov. 13.—One of the big Pennsylvania Railroad locomotives today developed a speed of 89.4 miles an hour over a seven miles stretch of track, defeating one of the immense ninety-five ton electric engines, which has been given speed trials on the specially built track near this place, by 20 miles to the hour. One of the gigantic electric engines was first given a trial and ran the distance at the rate of 69 miles an hour. The big steam locomotive was then brought on the track and when it had disappeared in the dust and steam the electric indicator in the station here spun around until the needle indicated a speed of 89.4. The track on which the trials are being made is equipped with a device that not only registered speed of engine but the force of the wheels upon the rails.

CONTROL OF BANK BUSINESS

Governor Hughes of New York Appoints Commission.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 13.—Governor Hughes tonight gave out a letter in which he requests that A. B. Hepburn, Edwin S. Marsten, Edward W. Sledon, Algernon S. Frissell, Stephen Baker and Andrew Mills, all banking or trust company officials of New York, shall act as a committee for the purpose of collating facts, receiving suggestions and expressing their views with reference to changes deemed advisable in the laws of the State relating to incorporation, conduct of business, and supervising of banks and trust companies.

The governor asks that this committee undertake this work solely as a matter of public service without provision for compensation or indemnity for expense and says he will be glad to receive its report on or before December 15, 1907. It is believed that all the men named will serve.

HARRY THAW'S SECOND TRIAL

Evidence Taken Before Lunacy Commission to be Opened.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, Nov. 13.—District Attorney William Travers Jerome and Martin W. Littleton, leading counsel for Harry K. Thaw, held a long conference on the Thaw case today. While neither party to the conference would discuss the matter, it is believed that it was agreed that the evidence taken before the board of lunacy commissioners which examined Thaw as to his competency during his first trial should be opened for the benefit on both sides. The evidence was ordered sealed and has never been undone by either side. It is said that the attorneys will join in a motion that it now be opened.

The case is set for hearing December 2 but it is believed probable that it will be postponed possibly for a month or more.

GERMAN EMPEROR'S VISIT.

English Think He Wants to Invade England.

(By Cable to The Morning Star.)

London, Nov. 13.—Emperor William of Germany, the guest of King Edward, made a speech today at the Guild Hall where he was entertained by the city of London. He urged the strengthening of the Anglo-German relations and emphasized his unalterable desire to foster the peace of the world. The day passed off without the expected socialist demonstration, much less any disoredr or rioting The reception accorded Emperor William by the people of London has been respectful but compared to that given some other royal visitors of recent years it was in no sense enthusiastic. The atmosphere which has prevailed during his appearance in public has been tinged with decided coolness and there is no doubt that the English officials are relieved that the passage of the German Emperor through the streets of this city was attended today by no disagreeable incidents.

The anti-German feeling among a large section of the English people, which is just at present particularly strong, derived fresh impetus from the antagonism which cropped out between the two nations on various lines during the recent peace conference at The Hague. Emperor William evidently intends that his visit shall inspire better feeling, but the results remain to be seen. However, cordial the relations between the ruling houses of Great Britain and Germany may be the British public does not share these sentiments. A large section, if not a majority of the English people, persists in believing Germany to be a Great Britain's one enemy among the nations and this enmity has been fanned recently by continuous warnings from some of the leading newspapers and reviews, as well as from military experts that Germany's chief naval and military activity is directed toward schemes for the invasion of England—that Germany plans to surprise England and some day when she is fully prepared to strike suddenly just as Japan surprised Russia.

"The German invasion," is becoming a hobby of the anti-Germans and a subject of ridicule for the pro-Germans. The idea, however, unquestionably has affected the mind of the public and it is tending to surround with suspicion Emperor William's professions of his desire for peace.

WARM WIRELETS.

General Fred D. Grant and Mrs. Grant, arrived in Richmond yesterday afternoon and are guests at the executive mansion. They were met at the depot by Mrs. Swanson and members of the Governor's staff.

An Abingdon, Va., dispatch says Governor Swanson has refused to commute the death sentence imposed on Noah Fulton for killing Johnson last April and he will be hanged in the jail yard at Abingdon next Friday.

At Nashville, Tenn., yesterday Mrs. Carrie Nation was made a life member of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union. The convention took this action at the request of the Nebraka delegation. The convention devoted the day to routine business.

Enrico Caruso, who is again to sing at the Metropolitan Opera House, arrived in New York yesterday on the Oceanic from Liverpool. He was in the best of spirits and said: "My trouble of last year is all forgotten. I know nothing of an appeal to a higher court and I think the incident is closed. I ask every American reporter to forget about it."

The Chicago police yesterday arrested Rosalie M. Moguero and her companion Antonio Braze, who are wanted in Schenectady, N. Y., on the charge of robbing a fruit dealer of $800. They had with them three children, all under three years of age, and $1,245 in currency was found sewed in the clothing of one of the children. The couple will be held pending further advices from Schenectady.

Raymond Hitchcock, the actor, appeared before Judge Rosalsky in the court of General Sessions in New York yesterday to plead to the six indictments handed down against him by the grand jury. A further adjournment of the pleading for one week was granted. An application also was made for leave to inspect the minutes of the grand jury. Action on this request will be taken later in the week.

What Is an Orator?

The true orator is the man who can make people laugh, cry and feel what he says. In truth, the genuine orator is the man who has humor enough in his soul to bring the smile to the face, pathos enough in his heart to bring the tear to the eye and dignity enough in his bearing to persuade or move men. He is an exponent of the spoken word. He is a pilgrim moving toward the home of the ideal. He is the embodiment of earnestness, enthusiasm and eloquence.—Exchange.

Pollen Travels Far.

The pollen from pine forests often forms a yellow coating on lakes or on the ocean as far as 200 miles from the shore and has been mistaken by peasants for showers of sulphur. The pollen grains of the pine are provided with hollow vesicles, which buoy them up in the air very much on the principle of a box kite.—St. Nicholas.

THE VENEER CUTTER.

A Machine That Slices Wood as Thin as Shavings.

"The veneer cutter is one of the wonders of modern times," says a furniture man. "People who have never seen it work have not the faintest idea what it can do. Of course it is one result of the scarcity and high price of valuable timber, for if mahogany, rosewood, ebony and curled maple were as cheap as yellow pine there would be no need for a veneering machine, but the high prices of these woods compelled economy. The furniture makers were obliged to use them with parsimony; hence the inventions of the veneer cutter.

"A saw cutter will cut twenty-five or thirty slices of veneer from an inch of wood, and most people would think that this is a tolerably economical use even of rosewood. But the knife cutter shaves off the wood in a slice so thin that from 125 to 150 veneers to the inch can be cut, and still every one of these shavings preserves the color and shows the texture of the original wood, and so smoothly is the cutting done that very often no polishing is necessary. The cheapness with which the work is done may be appreciated by the fact that cigar boxes once used, then given away or made into kindling, are often manufactured of poplar or some other cheap wood and veneered with cedar simply because a box that looks like cedar is preferred by the dealers."—Baltimore American.

A LAKE OF FIRE.

Marvelous Phosphorescence of a Fish Pond In the Bahamas.

The lake of Waterloo is a phosphorescent sheet of water a thousand feet long near Nassau, in the Bahamas. At night it is like a sheet of living fire if any wind is stirring to ruffle its surface.

If the night be calm, says the Rosary Magazine, the water lies dark and still until some object sets it in motion. Little colored boys are ready to swim out into the lake, where they seem to be clothed in garments of flame, leaving a long trail of molten splendor behind them.

The oars when rowing are as when dipped in fire, and if one holds up a handful of the water and lets it fall it looks like beads of gold, and the fish that dart here and there, startled by the visitors, leave flashes of mystic glowing splendor behind them. The clumsy turtles that move about look like balls of fire, and when it rains the lake is like a mass of jewels. This marvelous display of phosphorescence has never been accounted for, as the lake is of artificial formation, having been made for the breeding of turtles by a Nassau resident.

The bed of the lake is cut out of solid limestone, and it is filled from the sea, in which there is little of the phosphorescent quality.

Luther's "Ein Feste Burg."

In "Hymns Every Child Should Know" there are several interesting stories of Martin Luther's hymn, "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God." When Melanchthon and his friends were exiled after Luther's death they heard a little girl sing "Ein Feste Burg" in the streets of Weimar. Melanchthon said: "Sing on, my child. Thou little knowest how thy song cheers our hearts." In 1870, when the Franco-Prussian war was on, this great German hymn again aroused the German nation. The singing of this hymn has been made the ground for many imprisonments. One group of men arrested for singing it finally escaped and went to England, where they fell in with the great Wesley, and their influence upon him served to bring about the extraordinary Methodist revival.

A Gracious Absence.

The half hour in the drawing room before dinner was an interesting "first impression" of that indescribable combination of warmth and frost known as a London hostess. Further experience taught me that Mrs. Marchbanks was a typical one.

The London hostess' invariable mode of procedure is a sudden inordinate gush of welcome, followed immediately by an icy stare. By the time you have politely responded to the welcome your hostess has forgotten your existence. Nay, more, she seems almost to have forgotten her own. She is vague, self absorbed and quite oblivious to your existence. I have heard of a lady with a gracious presence. The London hostess is best described by a gracious absence.—Putnam's.

Indorsing the Asp.

In Marmontel's tragedy of Cleopatra, represented in the Theatre Francais, when the Egyptian queen was about ready to commit suicide she held in her hands a mechanical asp of cunning workmanship devised by Vaucanson, the most ingenious mechanician of his time. This venomous reptile reared its head and before plunging its apparent fangs into the arm of the actress gave a shrill hiss. A spectator hereupon arose and left the house with the simple but expressive remark, "I am of the same opinion as the asp."

Dueling In Old Creole Days.

When dueling was an actual factor in the social order of this country, it had many worthy and notable exponents, including no less distinguished personages than Henry Clay, Andrew Jackson, Alexander Hamilton, De Witt Clinton, Stephen Decatur and others of the same type, but nowhere on this continent was it so much an established institution as in that peculiarly romantic old city of New Orleans. It was woven into the very fabric of the life of the community, and many a crumbling tombstone in the antiquated creole cemeteries bears grim and silent witness to the fact, though to understand the situation more clearly one should breathe, so to speak, the atmosphere of the period.—Louis J. Meader in Century.

A Fish Story.

The latest fish story concerns the herring and sea gull, and it comes from Nanaimo. A boat load of herring, containing about fifteen tons, was left at Johnston's wharf, Nanaimo, during the noon hour while the fishermen went to dinner. During their absence several thousand sea gulls—the chronicler says 10,000—ate all the fish on one side of the boat with such good results that they emptied it, and when the last herring had been removed from that side it was like the last straw that broke the camel's back, for the boat, with all the weight on the other side, upset, spilling all the remaining fish into the water.—Shanghai Mercury.

Devoured by Jackals.

Foreign papers tell a story of a woman at Phillipeville, in Algeria, who was seated by her baby's cradle on the veranda of her house when she was called within by her husband. Returning to the veranda after an absence of a few minutes, she found the cradle knocked over and the baby gone. Next day native shepherds discovered in the undergrowth of a wood the bones of a young child and a string of amber beads, which were immediately recognized by the mother as having been on her child's neck. "There is no doubt that the infant was carried off and devoured by jackals," a correspondent adds.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

—Mt. Airy, Nov. 12.—A heavy snow is falling at this place this morning.

—Mt. Airy, Nov. 12.—Another big hotel is being erected at the quarries. This building is handsome and will accomodate a large number of guests.

—Elizabeth City. Nov. 12.—News was received here from Indiantown, Currituck county, this morning stating that Messrs. M. D. Sawyer and J. P. Whitehurst captured a panther near Indiantown last night. The panther was very large, weighing nearly seven—(?)—pounds, and measured five feet and four inches. He made a track over five inches long. Panthers are exceedingly rare in this country. It's seldom that a hunter ever succeeds in trapping one.

—Ashville, N. C., Nov. 12.—According to a report received here this afternoon from Marshall relative to the tragedy in Madison county Sunday evening, when Clark Norton shot and killed Ben Franklin, it would seem that Norton went to the home of George Franklin, where the lady of his choice resided, with a marriage certificate and with the intention of wedding the young woman that evening; that Ben Franklin was there; that he kicked up a row and as a result of the quarrel Norton shot and killed him. The report further states that after the tragedy Norton was married to the young woman whom he had gone to visit. The report however lacks positive confirmation.

—Charlotte, Nov. 12.—Two negroes Henry Pea and Jim Steele, were arrested yesterday morning by Constable J. H. Dixon, on a warrant charging them with having set fire to Mr. John Ferris' barn in Steele Creek township, several weeks ago. Vigilantly guarded and escorted by several of the leading citizens of the Steele Creek community they were driven into the city yesterday afternoon and carried before 'Squire S. H. Hilton for a hearing. 'Squire Hilton committed them to jail under a $1,000 bond each until the evidence may be investigated today. The trial will take place this afternoon at one o'clock. The following named citizens of the county have been summoned to testify: Messrs. Eben Griffith, Mason, Robinson, Ernest Cathey and Oscar Marks.

—Charlotte Observer—It is learned in this city that Mr. W. E. Christian, who is well known here, has been offered a splendid position with a Wall Street banking house, since his resignation as assistant general passenger agent in Atlanta. Mr. Christian left this job several days ago to go with the eastern offices of the Seaboard, the new position being in line of a distinct promotion. Since Mr. Christian accepted this new position and took up his office in New York, a flattering offer came to him from a prominent Wall Street banking house and this is receiving serious consideration at his hands. He has been associated with the Seaboard for a number of years, holding the position of assistant general passenger agent in Atlanta for six years.

—Mt. Airy, Nov. 12.—The manufacturers are holding out well. They continue to pay cash for material and labor. This is worthy of note when you figure out the number of men employed in al these works. There are now on the different payrolls about 800, several hundred less than twelve months ago. The falling off is in the number of men employed at the granite quarries. All the other industries work full forces of men, which does not include the cotton mills, which still run with their regular quota of hands. The postoffice receipts for October were greater than any previous month. If the sales keep up with the last month or two Mount Airy will be entitled to free delivery in 1908. This increase is remarkable, considering the stringency in money matters.

—Maxton, Nov. 12.—Mr. Luther McKinnon, aged 29, and a former resident of this place, died at Perry, Fla., on Saturday afternoon, November 9th, at four o'clock. The remains arrived here on the Seaboard train this morning and were interred this afternoon in the family burying ground about three miles in the country. Mr. McKinnon's death was especially sad, not only because he was a young and popular man of much worth, but because his death was very sudden and none of his relatives were with him. He and his wife had just been on a visit to his mother here and had returned, his wife stopping at her father's home in Geargia and the deceased going on to his home at Perry, Fla., The cause of his death was hemorraghic fever and must have been very severe as he was apparently very strong and robust before being taken sick but died in two days after being stricken. Mr. McKinnon leaves a wife, mother, and several brothers and sisters.

For several years I had stomach trou ble, and paid out much money for medicine to little purpose, until I began taking Electric Bitters. I would not take $500 for what they have done for me." CORNISH DIALECT.

Some Quaint Terms That Are Common Among the Natives.

"A hitched my foot in the sconce and knacked my nuddick, and A wadn't able to clunky for a fortnight."

Readers of dialect tales will probably take it for granted that this sentence is Scotch. It is, however, Cornish and, being interpreted, means, "I caught my foot in the pavement and struck the nape of my neck, and I was not able to swallow for a fortnight."

There are some quaint terms common in Cornwall which have a pleasing savor of their own. The phrase "my dear"—prolonged to two syllables—is not, for instance, any indication of especial affection. It is a common form of address to either man or woman. So also, though with rather more discrimination in its use, is "my deear life."

A young child is mentioned in terms of endearment as "my 'ansome" or "tender deear" or even "tender worm." "Son" and "sonny" are used without the least relation to the age or sex of the person addressed. A son may sometimes be heard speaking to his own father as "my son" or a husband calling his wife "sonny."

"Young" means simply unmarried. A bachelor of eighty is "a young man." Of a bride still in her teens it was said that she was "a pretty lot better looking than when she was young." An old person is not simply old. He is "old ancient." Several New England localisms are found in Cornish speech, as "cricket" for a small stool, "chores" for household jobs and "dowdy" for pudding, though in America the latter word survives only as part of "pandawdy," the delicious deep spiced apple pie of country housewives.

A Cornish anecdote relates that a small boy left at home to supervise the family dinner while the rest of the household were at church, having, like King Alfred, neglected his duty and allowed the fig pudding to scorch, in his dismay ran to the church and from the doorway made signs to the housewife to come forth. She indignantly signed him to wait, which for a time he did, but at length, becoming impatient, cried aloud in reply to her further winks and grimaces, to the scandal of the startled congregation:

"Yiew may winky and skrinky as long as yiew du plase, but the figgy dowdy is burnt gin the crock!"—Liverpool Mercury.

OUR BRAINS ARE DOUBLE.

But Only One of Them Is Used to Think With.

Man has a pair of brains just as he has a pair of eyes and a pair of ears, declares Dr. William Hanna Thomson in Everybody's. But, asserts Dr. Thomson, only one of our two brains is used to think with. He continues:

"When we come into this world we have a pair of quite thoughtless brains and nothing more. To become intelligent beings we must acquire a whole host of mental faculties and endowments, not one of which does a human being bring with him at birth. No one was ever born speaking English nor any other language. No newly born babe knows anything by sight nor by any other sense. Every kind of knowledge has to be gained by personal education. But only recently have we found that this education necessitates the creation of a local anatomical change in brain matter to make it the special seat for that 'accomplishment.' Thus no one can become a skilled violin player until by long fashioning he has at last made a violin playing place in his cerebrum.

"But all this brain fashioning takes so much time and trouble that for mere economy of labor, as one hemisphere will do all that is necessary the individual spends his efforts on one of them only. As both hemispheres are equally good for this purpose, which of the two he will educate depends on which one he begins with. This is settled for him when as a child he begins all his training by the hand that he then most easily uses; hence it is that all the speech centers and all the knowing and educated places are to be found only in the left hemisphere of the right handed and in the right hemisphere of the left handed."

The Landlady's Mistake.

On her first night at the seaside lodgings the visitor found it. Incredible it seemed, for the landlady had appeared a neat, cleanly, cautious body. But as the lady visitor knew little of her landlady and nothing of her predecessor in the apartment she decided to mention the matter at breakfast. "I found something in my bedroom," she began, and the landlady interrupted. "Then you must have brought it with you!" "I am quite sure I didn't," said the visitor, "for I counted all mine before I left home. But if you insist that this sovereign is mine, of course"—London Chronicle.

Did His Best.

"My goodness!" exclaimed an anxious mother. "What in the world made your face so dirty, Willie?"

"Johnny Jones and me had a fight," exclaimed Willie, "an' he throw'd more dirt in my face than I could swaller."—Home Magazine.

Not Honestly.

"Have you ever been in jail before?" demanded the judge.

"No, your honor, honestly, never!"

"Of course you haven't honestly. Few men get there that way."—Kansas City Independent.

YOU are not a shoemaker, so there's no need of going into an analysis of the construction of the "Queen Quality" Shoe. But the fact remains that it satisfies over two million wearers. They know they like it; that it gives style to the foot; that it gives comfort the first day worn. And that is enough. It holds its shape longer than other ready made shoes because it fits. Yet the enormous business done on "Queen Quality" Shoes keeps the prices moderate.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New York, Nov. 13.—A let up was made upon the downward movement of prices today after running somewhat further in the early part of the day. The rebound today was narrower than the downward reaction yesterday and the market became lethargic and uncertain in the later stages. This narrowing of the swing of the price movement usually is the sign of its approach to a condition of more or less stable equilibrium, in which it drifts feebly until it gets some new initiative from some fresh movement. It is believed that efforts to shape this end have much to do with the market this week.

The urgency of the demands for currency continued today, largely from out of town sources. The special urgency at this time is attributed partly to the necessity of meeting mid-monthly pay rolls.

The bidding of premiums for gold still to arrive, indicates, however, that conditions are expected to continue. Bids were reported today as high as 1 5-8 for the gold to arrive on the steamship Mauretania, which will not be ten days hence. Premiums paid today for currency ranged up to 3 3-4 per cent.

The copper stocks met some effective support today, but the general list sagged again after a recovery. Some anxiety was felt in the day lest the Bank of England should make another advance in the official discount rate tomorrow.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales par value $3,318,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales of stocks today were 331,100 shares.

THE COTTON MARKET.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New York, Nov. 13.—Trading in cotton contiued upon about the same scale as yesterday, sales for the day being estimated at 275,000 bales, but while there was continued irregularity and nervousness, quotations were narrower and the net changes small. The close was steady net 2 points lower to 5 points higher.

The market opened steady at a decline of 1 point to an advance of 3 points, which was considered about as due on the cables. Shortly after the opening there was a decline under local bear pressure and selling by Southern spot houses which was lead by the December option. That position sold at 5 to 10 points net lower while later months were only 5 to 8 points lower. There was no sign, however, of liquidation on the part of the bull clique, notwithstanding the many reports of cotton heading in this direction from Liverpool, Boston and Providence as well as the South, and later there was quite a sharp rally on covering, buying by Liverpool and Europe, and bull support. After selling 2 to 6 points net higher early in the afternoon fluctuations were irregular. The December premium over January at the close was 38 points. Bullish interests claim that it is impossible to bring cotton here except at a loss, and say that so far arrivals have been limited to 100 bales from Liverpool and 1,000 bales from the South. Advices from Philadelphia and Boston were bearish as to grade conditions and there were rumors that New England mills were going on short time.

Receipts at the ports today were 56,204 bales against 65,335 last week and 60,974 last year. For the week 360,000 bales against 363,976 last week and 413,341 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 17,890 bales against 21,025 last year.

Spot cotton closed steady middling uplands 10.80; middling gulf 11.06 sales 1,100 bales.

COTTON

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, Nov. 13.—With a view of facilitating the movement of cotton and thereby relieving the financial stringency, I beg to announce that I am prepared to purchase at the current premium any currency which may be ordered either by mail or wire by bankers and merchants of the South. The premium on currency in New York today is three per cent, for silver dollars and four per cent for gold and small bills. It fluctuates from day to day. Reimburse for such purchases can be made either by remittance of draft or check collectable in New York clearing house funds or by the shipment of cotton for delivery here upon December contracts. Against such consignments I am prepared subject to arrangement by telegraph to advance ninety per cent of the prospective proceeds of sale and delivery. December contracts this evening close at 10.43 the approximate cost of delivering cotton after its arrival in New York is sixty-five cents a bale. Al grades above low middling, stained and good ordinary white, are deliverable at the current differences established by the New York Cotton Exchange which, however, may possibly be changed slightly at the revision of grade differences to be decided upon Nov. 20th. If cotton be shipped in payment for currency such currency will be promptly forwarded by express at the risk and cost of consignee immediately upon receipt of bills of lading and invoices for the cotton so shipped. If it be not insured by the shipper, marine or inland insurance will be provided by me for account of the parties making such shipment but at their cost. The average charge for such insurance is 1-8 to 3-16th of one per cent. and is in addition to the sixty-five cents a bale required to cover the cost of delivery here as above stated. If currency shipments be desired against New York Exchange remittance of such exchange can be made by mail or current balances with clearing house banks in New York can be ordered paid me by telegraph in which case the currency will be shipped the same day. I shall make no charge for my services in the premises, my object being to relieve the abnormal financial situation to the best of my ability. I invite correspondence either by mail or wire in regard to the above.

BELLE of VIRGINIA

BLENDED RYE

Belle of Virginia Rye deserves its name, and the name is certainly one of distinction and old-time aristocracy. It's a whiskey we are proud of on account of its purity and high quality and its hosts of admiring friends who will drink nothing else. Belle of Virginia is a blend—a scientific, uniform blend of pure, old goods. It's a whiskey with a flavor, and a fine, invigorating after-effect long to be remembered by those who drink it. Try it and you will make no mistake.

MAKING FIGHT FOR HARRIMAN

Railroad Magnate's Attorneys Argue His Right to Refuse to Testify.

SENATOR SPOONER IN CASE

As Counsel for Harriman He Denies That Inter-State Commerce Commission Has Power to Compel His to Answer.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, Nov. 13.—After seven hours and a half of argument on both sides of the question, Judge Hough, in the United States Circuit Court, announced tonight that he would not be ready to render a decision on the petition of the Inter-State Commerce Commission to compel E. H. Harriman to answer certain questions proposed to him last Spring in the course of the Commission's investigation into the so-called Harriman lines, until December 1.

The arguments which were not concluded until 6:30 P. M., took a wide range and the privileges and powers of the Inter-State Commerce Commission were thoroughly gone into. Former Senator John C. Spooner, of Wisconsin, appeared for the first time in the case and argued in defense of the first time in the case and argued in defense of the position maintained by Mr. Harriman—that he is not required to tell the Commission what individual profit he made in selling the stocks of other railroads held by him to the Union Pacific Company or to detail the manner in which the famous 10 per cent. Union Pacific dividend was declared in August 1906 and its announcement deferred for two days. Mr. Harriman has also declined to say how much stock of the Union Pacific, if any, he bought just prior to the announcement of the dividend.

John G. Milburn was also heard in defense of Mr. Harriman and in opposition to the petition filed by the Commission. On behalf of the government, represented by the Inter-State Commerce Commission, the arguments were conducted by United States Attorneys L. Stimson and Frank B. Kellogg, special counsel to the Commission.

Counsel for Mr. Harriman stated to Judge Hough that the stock purchases of the Union Pacific railroad amounting to $150,000,000 during one period and about $182,000,000 in the aggregate were made on the recommendation of the executive committee approved by the board of directors and ratified by the stockholders. All that Mr. Harriman had done, Mr. Milburn declared, had met with the fullest approval of the stockholders of the Union Pacific Company. He further stated that, allowing for losses sustained in the recent heavy slump of prices, the Union Pacific Company had profited no less than $32,000,000 by its stock purchases. Mr. Milburn said this fact should silence the claim of the Commission that the stock purchases tended to impair the effectiveness of the railroads engaged in inted-state business.

Mr. Kellogg in reply to this stated that the so-called market value of the stocks sold to the United Pacific was nothing more or less than a Wall street quotation, probably fixed by the very pool of men whom it is claimed were behind the stock deals. As to the impairment of the usefulness of the railroads, Mr. Kellogg asserted that the roads of inflated values were today unable to borrow money to build the cars needed by them to carry out their obligations to the public.

"The same thing is true of the roads without inflated values," retorted Mr. Milburn.

Senator Spooner declared that the stock deals between Mr. Harriman and the Union Pacific were matters of concern only between the individual and the stockholders and had nothing to do with inter-state commerce. Mr. Kellogg declared the Commission had a right to inquire into the uses to which the moneys of a railroad were put.

Judge Hough interrupted the attorneys on both sides with many pointed questions. He asked, if, after all, the Commission was only seeking by the unanswered questions to prove from whom Harriman, the individual, purchased the stock subsequently sold to the company of which he is president, and what profit he individually made by the transaction.

Mr. Kellogg said the Commission sought to get at the bona fides of the stock deals. In general, he declared, the Commission was making an inquiry which involved the question of whether or not the great Western territory of the United States shall be dependent upon one man for its developments—whether or not there shall be railroad competition between the Missouri River and the South Pacific coast.

SIX MEN GROUND TO DEATH

Caught on Grade Crossing by Fast Train.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Milwaukee, Was., Nov. 13.—Six men were killed at South Milwaukee tonight when a fast Chicago and Northwestern train ran into a crowd on a grade crossing near the station. All of the victims were so mutilated that identification was for a time impossible. A dozen persons stodd on the southbound track waiting for another train on the northbound track to pull out. The southbound train came along and killed six and injured half a dozen others so severely that they were taken to hospitals with broken ribs and limbs. All of the killed and injured were factory workmen.

UNION LABOR WIIL FIGHT

Steps Taken by American Federation in Difference With Manufacturers' Association — Congress Urged Exclude Japanese Coolie

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 13.—The fight between the Federation and the Manfacturers' association growing out of the suit brought in the District of Columbia by James W. Van Cleave, president of that association, for the anti-boycott injunction desired by a St. Louis stove manufacturing concern, came to an issue before the American Federation of Labor convention when the body received and referred to a special committee of fifteen, resolutions setting forth the fight thit is now being waged by the Manufacturers' Association "in an attempt to disrupt the labor organizations of the country" and providing for a "campaign of education" against Van Cleave and his interests through all central bodies allied with the American Federation of Labor and its commission organizers, who are directed to make such expenditures as may be necessary to effectually carry on the work.

Resolutions were introduced as follows:

Calling for Federal aid to prevent United States and Canadian Lumber Trust reciprocity because of disastrous results from competition between white and Asiatic labor.

Calling upon Congres to exclude Japanese laborers, not only from the United States, but from all of its insular possessions.

Calling for Federal aid to permanently prevent the enforcement of the freight rates on forest products contemplatel by Hill and Harriman railroads.

Calling for the return of the cement workers charter.

Endorsing the blue cross button as a permanent emblem of labor.

Calling upon Congress to provide an annual "peace budget," with an appropriation of at least $1 for every $1,000 appropriated for military purpuses, the fund to be used in promoting friendly feeling and an exchange of courtesies and information with foreign powers with whom there may be danger of a misunderstanding.

Calling upon the convention jurisdictional disputes between bona fide organizations to return to advisory policies, leaving final action to contending unions without effect upon their eligibility for affiliation with this organization.

TRIAL OF CALEB POWERS

Former Governor Taylor, Fugitive From State, Wanted as Witness.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Georgetown, Ky., Nov. 13—The third day of Caleb Powers' trial opened with increased attendance and interest. The first move of the defense was the filing of three important depositions in support of the avowal bearing on the validity of William A. Taylor's claim to the governorship, making good his pardon issued to Powers.

It was from Attorney General Griggs under President McKinley instructing the Postoffice Department at Washington to direct the postmaster of Frankfort to deliver mail to State officials actually holding office. Another was from Taylor himself asserting his right as governor. Attached to Taylor's deposition was a copy of his commission as Governor. The third was from United States District Attorney W. M. Smith, bearing on the same point.

The defense was assured by the court that compulsory process would be used to compel the attendance of any absent witnesses. The list of defense witnesses revealed the fact that former Governor Taylor and form er Secretary of State Charles Finley, both now in Indiana, be brought back to Kentucky to testify in favor of Powers. The prosecution asked permission to file a counter avowal to that filed by the defense's counsel during the day. It will be prepared by tomorrow.

Judge Morris decided this afternoon that the jury shall be drawn from Harrison county. Sheriff Warren was instructed to summon 200 men from that county to report next Friday. Harrison is a large democratic county.

NEW GOLD COIN CAUSES PROTEST

Motto "In God We Trust" Was Omitted in St. Gaudens Design.

MR. ROOSEVELT EXPLAIN IT

Considered It Irreverence and He did Not Approve of It—Believed It Does Harm — Protests Are Numerous.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Washington, Nov. 13.—In answer to one of the numerous protests which have been received at the White House against the new gold coin which have been coined without the words "In God We Trust," President Roosevelt has written a letter which he today made public. The letter follows:

"When the question of the new coinage came up we looked into the law and found there was no warrant therein for putting "In God We Trust" on the coins. As the custom, although legal warrant, had grown up, however, I might have felt at liberty to keep the inscription had I approved of its being on the coinage. But as I did not approve of it, I did not direct that it should again be put on. Of course, the matter of the law is absolutely in the hands of Congress and any direction of Congress in the matter will be immediately obeyed.

"At present, as I have said, there is no warrant in law for the inscription.

"My own feeling in the matter is due to my firm conviction that to put such a motto on coins, or to use it in any kindred manner, not only does no good but does positive harm, and is in effect irreverence, which comes dangerously close to sacrilege. A beautiful sentence such as the one in question should be related and uttered only with that fine reverence which necessarily implies a certain exaltation of spirit. Any use which tends to cheapen it and above all any use which tends to secure its being treated in a spirit of levity is from every standpoint profoundly to be regretted. It is a motto which it is indeed to have inscribed on our great national monuments, in our temples of justice, in our legislative halls and in buildings such as those at West Point and Annapolis, in short, wherever it will tend to arouse and inspire a lofty emotion in those who look thereon. But it seems to me eminently unwise to cheapen such a motto by use on coins, just as it would be to cheapen it by use on postage stamps, or in advertisements.

"As regards its use on the coinage we have actual experience by which to go. In all my life I never have heard any human being speak reverently of this motto on the coins or show any signs of its having appealed to any high emotion in him, but i have literally hundreds of times heard it used as an occasion of and incitement to the sneering ridicule which it is above all things undesirable that so beautiful and exalted a phrase should excite. For example throughout the long contest extending over several decades on the free coinage question the existence of this motto was a constant source of jest and ridicule; and this was unavoidable. Every one must remember the innumerable cartoons and articles based on phrases like "In God We Trust for the Eight Cents," "In God We Trust for the Short Weight," "In God We Trust for the Thirty-Seven Cents We Do Not Pay" and so forth and so forth. Surely I am well within the bound when I say that a use of the phrase which invites constant levity of this type is most undesirable. If Congress alters the law and directs me to replace on the coins the sentence in question, the direction will be immediately put into effect; but I very earnestly trust that the religious sentiment of the country, the spirit of reverence in the country, will prevent any such action being taken.

IMPRISONED FOR 87 HOURS

Rescue of Miner Mourned for Dead by His Family.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Pottsville, Pa., Nov. 13.—Imprisoned for 87 hours several hundred feet beneath the surface of the earth almost directly under his own home where his wife and children mourned for him as dead, Michael McCable, of Gilberton, was today taken from his tomb in the Draper mine barely alive, after one of the most marvelous rescues in the history of anthracite mining.

Since Saturday afternoon when the top of the chamber in which he was working caved in and caused a rush of culm and water from the surface, relays of workmen toiled unceasinly to reach him.

Shortly after midnight the rescuers heard a scratching noise which told them that McCabe was living and worked with renewed vigor and at 5 o'clock this morning he was reached He had not changed his position from the time the rush occurred, as he feared that by moving about another rush of culm might start which would end his life. When rescued he said he thought he had been imprisoned for at least a week and was so weak for want of water and food that he could scarcely speak. He was removed to his home where the house of mourning was changed to one of rejoicing.

Arrangements were made last night to bore a hole in the hope of reaching the entombed miner and supplying him with water and food until his rescue could be made in case he still lived.

BANKER'S LOOT METHODS

How John R. Walsh Worked Three Chicago Institutions for $14,000,000—His Trial Has Begun in Chicago Yesterday.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Chicago, Nov. 13.—The trial of John R. Walsh, formerly president of the Chicago National Bank, now defunct, on a charge of misuse of the funds of that institution, formally opened today. The jury was completed shortly after noon, and assistant District Attorney Fletcher Dobyns, at the opening of the afternoon session, began the preliminary statement in behalf of the government. It is expected that Mr. Dobyns will not conclude until late tomorrow.

The government will attempt to show that Walsh took from the Chicago National Bank, the Equitable Trust Company and the Home Savings Bank, $14,000,000. In his statement Dobyn declared that Walsh obtained the ownership of various large properties without cost to himself by using the funds of the banks. He said:

"Watered stock to the probable amount of $25,000,000 of $30,000,000 was issued. Mr. Walsh through his employers voted the stock to himself, but then sold this stock to the banks, taking the money to build up his private enterprises. All of the stocks sold by Mr. Walsh was practically valueless. It was the practice of Mr. Walsh to make loans to one of his companies and then sell the bonds of that company to the bank. These bonds were practically worthless."

The assistant district attorney then stated to the jury that Mr. Walsh had induced various persons to sign "accomodation notes" for the bank. "Then," said Dobyns, "he signed the names of people to notes. Checks were made payable to bearer, and credited to the personal account of Mr. Walsh. Bonds were made out to the same 'dummies' whose names were on the notes and the credits were made to Mr. Walsh's account.

"In 1903, Mr. Walsh was told by the bank examiner that the Chicago National Bank was being loaded down with the securities of Mr. Walsh's personal enterprises. The examiner ordered him to take these securities out and Mr. Walsh promised to do so.

"In 1904 the bank was found in the same condition, the warning was repeated, and Mr. Walsh again promised to remove the securities. Another examination showed that the bank was in a worse condition than ever, and it was then ordered closed.

"The government will show that Walsh's method was to buy from himself, fix his own price and put the money in his pocket."

As an illustration of Walsh's alleged procedure in finance, the assistant district attorney cited the Southern Indiana Railroad Company, reviewing its history up to the time Walsh purchased it for $175,000.

"He had issued to himself,, Dobyns said, "$300,000 in bonds at the very time it was organized and these bonds had no value. He put them in the Equitable Trust Company, selling them at par, and then issued another $100,000 of bonds and sold them at par. He took money from time to time from the Chicago National Bank and from the Equitable Trust Company to develop this property, depositing with them those bonds until he had deposited with the former $300,000, and with the latter $950,000. He tried to get the bonds listed on the New York Stock Exchange but he was told to show their distribution, and the matter was laid over. Later he stated that they had been distributed. They had been distributed in his own banks at his own price."

CHINCHY CHURCH MEMBERS

Bishop of Michigan Scores People of His Diocese.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 13.—Bishop Charles D. Williams, of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of Michigan, today in his annual addres to the diocesan convention, criticised the Episcopalians in his diocese for lack of public spirit and small contributions to the church in the diocesan work. He had previously urged the erection of a cathedral and a church hospital in Detroit. "There is plenty of money to spend on personal enjoyment," said he. "I have preached many a sermon to an elegantly dressed congregation and then received as an offering for my emergency fund an average of three cents per head. That is the established average of these offerings throughout the diocese—three cents a head. This is not due to stinginess. It is lack of public spirit. The Episcopal church boasts of its strength and compactness, of its organization, but it sometimes seems to me that it is more congregational than the Congregationalists themselves."

NITRO-GLYCERINE EXPLOSION

Three Men Killed and Factory Totally Destroyed.

(By Wire to the Morn'ng Star.)

Bradner, O., Nov. 13.—The Hercules Nitro-Glycerine factory, a mile and a half from here, blew up with terrific force today. Only three employes were in the neighborhood when the explosion occurred. W. C. Chrow was burned to death, John Washburn was blown to fragments and Henry Eastern, superintendent of the factory, was probably fatally injured.

A residence near the scene of the accident was utterly demolished. Nothing remains of the factory. A huge pit in the earth shows where it was located. In Bradner no great damage was done, except to windows and mirrors which were shattered by the hundreds.

Chrow was injured by the explosion and fell among the debris which caught fire, burning him to death.

The shock of the explosion was felt at Upper Sandusky, and at other towns forty miles away.

DAUGHTERS OF CONFEDERACY.

Fourteenth Annual Convention at Jamestown Exposition.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 13.—The fourteenth annual convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy began here today for a session of four days, with an attendance of several hundred delegates, including representatives from every State that formed the Confederacy and many many from other States, North, East and West. The convention was called to order in the auditorium on the Jamestown Exposition grounds by the president general, Mrs. Lizzie George Anderson, of Gulfport, Miss., who made the response in the name of the convention to addresses of welcome by President Tucker in behalf of the management of the Jamestown Exposition; Rear Admiral Harrington, U. S. N., Mrs. James Y. Leigh, of Norfolk; president of the hostess chapter, and Mrs. William R. McKenney, of Petersburg, president of the Virginia division United Daughters of the Confederacy. The reports of the officers were then taken up. The afternoon feature was a reception at Beauvoir, a replica of the Mississippi home of Jefferson Davis, erected on the exposition grounds by the Daughters of the Confederacy.

Among the most important matters to be considered at the present session is a revision of the constitution and by-laws, with a change in the time for holding the annual meetings from November to October.
